DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12-30-03 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Emberty et al. in view of Shimose et al..

The patent to Emberty et al. discloses an automated retrieval system for handling generally flat cartridges (14) wherein a gripping device (18) is positioned adjacent to a part (14) to be retrieved (step 202). If a predetermined threshold is not properly detected, then the position of the gripping device is slightly displaced to another spot on the part until the predetermined threshold is met. The Emberty et al. system uses magnetism rather than suction as the gripping force for its retriever (18).

The Shimose et al. patent shows a suction gripping assembly comprising suction pads (23) monitored by a suction pressure detecting means (27,30) to ensure proper engagement with a surface of a flat article (11).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to replace the magnetic gripping assembly of Emberty et al. with a suction-type gripper and accompanying pressure detector similar to that shown in the Shimose et al. patent so that a wide variety of articles not having labels could be more securely handled.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2 and 3 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
